

Mr. Sanjay Kumar graduated in Electronics and Telecommunication Engineering from Institute of Electronics and Telecommunication Engineers, New Delhi and received his Masters' degree in VLSI Design and Embedded Systems from Visvesvararya Technological University, Belgaum, Karnataka. His research interest includes Air Defence Surveillance Radars and Analog and Digital signal Processing Techniques. He has worked in various Air Defence installations, at various level of maintenance and Operational activities of Indian Air Force. He has also contributed in Development of Pylon Interface Box fitted in Tejas Aircraft while working with Bharat Electronics Limited, Jalahalli, Bangalore. He is teaching Electronics for last seven and half years. He is a member of Institution of Engineers (IE).